

TIGER

199

VOLUME
55

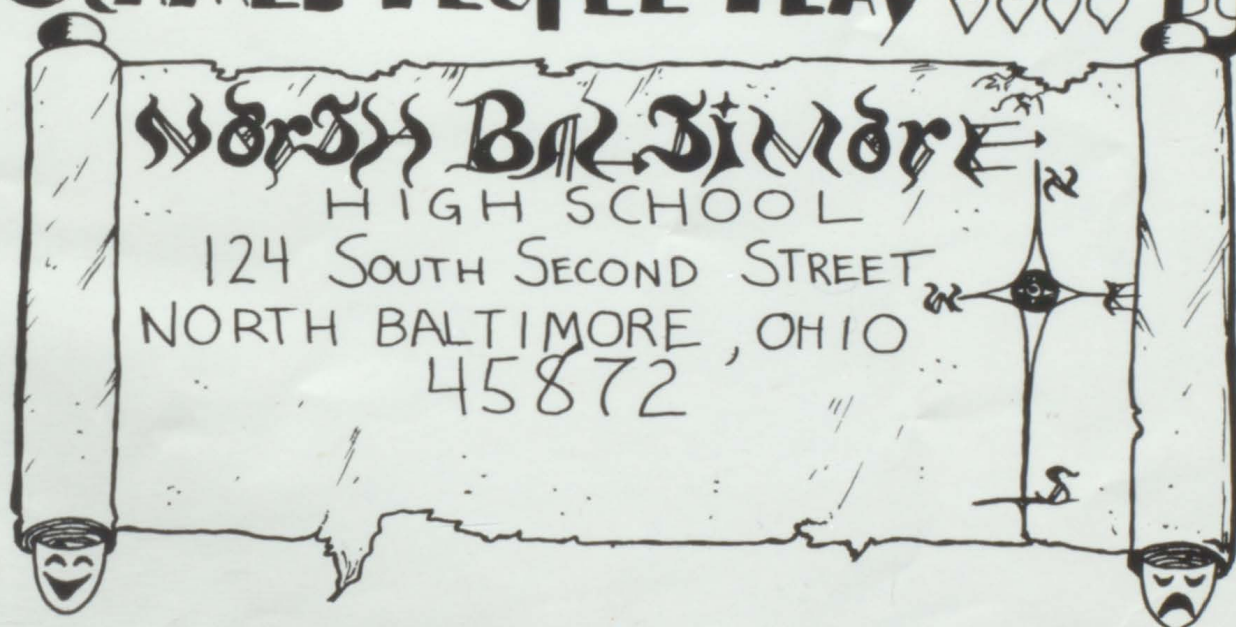

DEALERS CHOICE ♠♠♠♠ pg.8

INTO THE SHUFFLE ♦♦♦♦ pg.26

CARD CLUBS. ♣♣♣♣ pg.54

GAMES PEOPLE PLAY ♥♥♥♥ pg.66

Junior attendant Amanda Clark smiles at the new Homecoming Queen Nikki Gonyer as they dance to the latest songs.

Corey Schwab and Marcy Miklovic lead lock-in participants in a Teen Institute cheer.

Sharing a romantic moment to add to high school memories.

Trump Cards

By Monica Tellez

When each school year comes to an end, do you ever look back on all the exciting things that happened? Do you ever ask yourself, where has time gone? Well, for this page, "Trump Cards" stands for the moments that have had an impact on our lives.

"The most exciting thing that happened to me this past year was when the girls' basketball team made it to the district finals!" Sophomore Michelle Bretz said. "Although we lost to Liberty Center (53-59), it was a close game and we had fun," she added.

Freshman Molly Sterling said that Prom '93 was the most exciting thing this year. "I think it's just because it's the first time I've gone and I had a special date!" Molly said.

Junior Suzie Kaltenbach found the trip Kaleidoscope took to Atlanta, Georgia, the most exciting thing this past year. "I met the love of my life there!" she said. "Well, besides Thomas Tellez," Suzie added with a smile.

Senior Nikki Gonyer thought becoming Homecoming Queen was the big "thrill" because "that was the only really important thing that happened this year."

I'm sure there are many other things you may look back on. However, remember, there is still a whole new future waiting for you.

CAN WE GO ANY FASTER?
THERE'S SHOPPING TO DO!

Suzie Kaltenbach awaits her big chance at stardom. (Chorus went to the Bowling Green Mall to sing Christmas carols.)

Some band members are born to be wild.

Mary Kerr clowns around during a volleyball game break.

Unidentified NB student masquerades as Cousin It.

Wild Cards

Wild Cards. Every school has 'em. Sometimes it seems NBHS has been blessed (or cursed) with quite a few. These are the individuals we shall never forget. They add a bit of spontaneity to the routine dullness that 180 days of compulsory education can sometimes inflict.

What does it take to be a wild one? Junior Tim Phillips, a card-in-training, puts it this way: "You have to be a hellion." Kathy Feehan earned her place in the NB Wild Card Hall of Fame by

"being outgoing, crazy, and possessing a sense of humor."

How do teachers deal with wild cards? "That depends," says M.J. Mason, who admits to having a few of her own crazy days. "Sometimes, timing is everything. The right kind of whimsy at just the appropriate moment can save us all from perpetual seriousness," said Ms. Mason.

So, to all the senior wild cards, keep smilin' and goofin'. And to those resident cards: make 1994 crazy when you can.

Senior Krista Sweet will try anything to get Tim's attention.

Jeremy Ford, Vic McIntyre, and Don Bear learn their skills for living from Mrs. Lee's lecture.

Kelly Pelton rests her weary brain while finishing English grammar. Billy Jo Updike hangs on Mr. Devine's every word.

Right: Elbows get a workout during 8th grade political campaign presentations.

DEAD CARDS

Why do students need to hold up their heads with elbows?

Pam Patterson: "Because I'm tired."

Ms. Reed: "My brains are so heavy because I'm so super intelligent."

Shari Bretz: "I never have anything to do."

Robyn Straley: "It's comfortable."

Edie Grilliot: "To hold my head up because my hair is heavy."

Holly Patterson: "It's relaxing."

Joe Gerdeman: "Makes it easier to sit."

Will Patterson: "Because classes are boring."

Rhonda Trevino: "So I don't have to look at the guy sitting next to me."

Beth Grilliot: "To hold my face up so it doesn't hit the desk."

Bill Smith: "I like the attractive red mark it makes."

Dani Trout: "So my head doesn't float away."

Kristin Straley: "I'm bored."

Craig Burwell: "I don't know."

Matt Gazarek: "My head hurts because the teachers give me a headache."

GO FISH!

Jessie Fleckner and Andrea Lafferty get some culture in art class.

STUDENT LIFE

DEALER'S CHOICE

Senior Second attendant Kathy Feehan and her escort senior Adam Wymer.

Is Homecoming Important?

by Krista Sweet

Homecoming! Homecoming! Is Homecoming Important?

Kathy Feehan, second senior attendant said, "Yes, homecoming is an honor because classmates choose you."

Coach O'Brien thinks it is important because it is a tradition. "It is the only time you really get everybody out to show spirit."

Kirk Pelton and Adam Wymer, both football players, feel Homecoming brings out spirit in the community, players, and school.

Holly Patterson feels it's not fair that the same person gets elected attendant year after year, but if the student body chooses the same person she must deserve it and if so she should get it.

---

Freshman attendant Chrissy Ryan and her escort senior Kirk Pelton.

Above: Sophomore attendant Rhonda Trevino and her escort senior Tony Like. Junior attendant Amanda Clark and her escort senior Will McCartney.

The 1992 Homecoming Queen Shelly Gonyer retires her crown to the 1993 Homecoming Queen Nikki Gonyer. The crown-bearer is Aaron Apple, son of Tim and Lori Apple. The flower girl is Kristen Hoffman, daughter of Kevin and Danna Hoffman. Above: Senior first attendant Holly Patterson and her escort senior Bill Stewart.

The Royal Flush

Is this Mary Kerr as a money collector or the Eskimo pie lady? Mike Lerma (Jacob Marley) prepares to go on stage.

Scrooge tries to snuff out holiday jocularity.

Smith Is Scrooge!

Young Scrooge (Corey Schwab), Dick (Jake Swartz), and Belle (Carrie Mills) toss around Scrooge's book as Ghost of the Past (Suzie Kaltenbach) and Ebenezer Scrooge (Michelle Smith) observe.

Ghost of Christmas Present (Timothy Phillips) convinces Scrooge he's real.

E. Scrooge and Ghost of Christmas Past look on towards shadows of the things that have been.

Tiny Tim (Mike Smith) hams it up.

Center: Jay Simon strikes a jaunty pose with fellow errand boy Thomas Tellez. Fred and wife (Jake Swartz and Monica Tellez) play a game of "yes" and "no." Ghost of Christmas Future (Mike Lerma) leads Scrooge to his ill-fated destiny.

Sometimes We Work Hard

Eighth Honors Program

Exceptional students were honored at the annual academics program held May 12. English teacher Fran Weith was the guest speaker.

U.S. Savings Bonds were given to Brian Gazarek and Joe Gerdemen.

The following students achieved a 3.5 GPA or above: seniors—Brian Gazarek (4.0), Joe Gerdemen (3.9), Mike Lerma (3.8), Joy Boger (3.6), Zach Swartz (3.5); juniors—Carrie Mills (4.0), Brad Houdashelt (3.9), Marcy Miklovic (3.7), Jennifer Ditto (3.5), Beth Gore (3.5), Amanda Clark (3.5); sophomores—Amy Jackson (3.8), Robyn Straley (3.5).

Honor roll students were also recognized during the evening. They included the following: seniors—Chris Baltz, Matt Benedict, Jenn Busch, Kari Chapman, Jason Doering, Kathy Feehan, B. Gazarek, Mary Kerr, M. Lerma, Tony Like, Jeff McMahan, Z. Swartz, Krista Sweet, Ronda Thomas, and Amy Ziegenhardt; juniors—Dawn Chapman, Amanda Clark, Jennifer Ditto, Kyle Hendren, B. Houdashelt, Heather Light, M. Miklovic, C. Mills, Corey Schwab; sophomores—Tammy Baney, Don Bear, A. Jackson, Mary Julien, Kim Kast, Stephanie Kreisher, Kalyn Loe, April McEwen, Heather Phillips, Dwayne Snyder, R. Straley, Graig Wymer; freshmen—John Bower, Monica Gazarek, Kelly Hemminger, Aryn Kean, Angela Lindquist, Jaymi Smith, Shanda Sterling.

Carol Montgomery looks for a good poem to study in English class. Gastronomes Dan Leal and Adam Wymer decipher a recipe in potpourri class. Mike Smith cracks the books hard in sixth grade.

