ROARING TH

Over the years our lives have changed. As Freshmen we were worried about fitting in and making it through high school. Graduation seemed like a distant thing that would never come and we took each day for what it was. By the time we reached our Sophomore year, we felt more mature, but most of us still wouldn't cross a Senior in the hallway. We were just beginning to stand out and make our mark, proving that we weren't just "kids". Our Junior year, was a year of change. We weren't afraid to be ourselves. We began to be recognized for our achievements and were respected by our fellow students. Finally, Senior year arrived, and with it all the anxiety and fears of leaving the place we call N.B.H.S. and our friends. We spend the last year reliving the memories to share in the future. As our graduation approaches, we try to hold on to what we have before it's too late. It's obvious that the Senior Class of 1996 has made their mark and won't soon be forgotten.
