Looking back to the past...

We were born in 1981/1982. People were still getting over Vietnam and Disco had swept the country. Records, the big black frisbee things that are five times the size of a CD's, were cool. The Muppets were our heroes, and Atari was the game of choice. Pac Man invaded our heads and our parents' pockets. We had those bouncy balls that had the handle on the top and you could sit on and bounce all over the place. The Reagan administration came around, but all we cared about were our mini-wheels. In Kindergarten, the opposite sex had cooties, and we played games like Candyland and Chutes and Ladders. Tic-tac-toe was still fashionable to us. Star Wars was imitated all over the nation and ET made us afraid to go into the bathroom. Girls fought over My Little Ponies, Barbies, and Cabbage Patch Kids. Boys were more into Transformers, He-Man, and GI Joes, not to mention their precious BB guns. In second grade we watched as the Challenger left from the earth only to float back unexpectedly, devastating the nation, and plunging then into a state of mourning. TV rotted our brains with "M*A*S*H," "Facts of Life," "Different Strokes," and "The Cosby Show." Leg warmers, bandanas, and spiked hair, consumed us as we listened to Boy George and his Culture Club, Bruce Springsteen, Rolling Stones, Madonna, George Michael, Cyndi Lauper, and Michael Jackson. Pretty soon, hair stopped being spiked and hair started getting BIG. Chains, spikes, and jelly bracelets were the rage, and everything was "awesome" and even "rad." People started getting computers like the Apple 2E. Bubble dresses were cool and the youth were following the path of rebellion. Drugs and guns were becoming more and more common, and we watched as the world discovered HIV and AIDS, and an 18 year old boy died from a transfusion. We also lived through the Bush administration. Our generation watched the Gulf War, come into our living rooms at night with the green night images and the blazing dots across the screen. We started listening to "Ice, Ice Baby" and "You Can't Touch This." Bill Clinton became President taking Al Gore as his VP. Rolling your jeans and wearing "Guess" and "Esprit" clothes made you popular. Skinny people were beautiful and fat people were funny, but everyone was crazy for McDonalds. We started dating more frequently, searching for the love of our life and crushing on all the older kids. Soon we were in High School getting our licenses and going to proms and homecomings, sports, activities, SAT/ACT, and all that other good stuff. Now we are approaching our graduation day. We will wear our caps and gowns, and turn our tassels when our names are called. There will be many tears shed and many good-byes made. Everything will be different, but it's not the end - it's just the beginning. We are the Class of 2000, we will change the world.

CLASS OF 2002

We asked: What is the biggest difference between being a Freshman and being a Sophomore?

Dave -The girls are more immature then last year.

Hersh-Everybody is cooler to you because they are too busy picking on Freshman.

Mike-Nothing, both years stunk.

Ashley-This year we're not considered "little" Freshmen.
