First EnBee Publications would like to thank the Community of North Baltimore and the surrounding areas for making our 2006-2007 ad sales campaign a success. Without your continued support of the EnBee Annual many students would not be able to afford the $125.00 price which is the cost to produce each book. With your generosity, the price of this yearbook is once again kept under $50.00. Parents please thank our advertisers when you visit their places of business. Now back to business. The EnBee Publications class was held during 6th period from 12:35-1:15p.m. daily. During this time the students began the year by selling ads and learning the software program used to create the book. We had a tremendous head start when four of our students attended yearbook camp in July of 06, sponsored by Herff Jones. It was during the 3 days at camp, with the guidance of Head Editor, Jessica Kyttle, these four students started to develop the theme and book design. By the time school started in August, Jessica had already designed the layout of the pages, as well as develop procedures for the staff members to follow when creating their pages. Throughout the year the students worked hard at times and other times seemed to goofed around hoping I wouldn't notice, but on the last day they had all the pages turned into Jessica. Jessica Kyttle has put her heart and soul into this book as Head Editor. Thank you 06-07 EnBee staff on a job well done. Thank you NB community for your support.
