

Evan Krotzer
Richard Lentz
Kerstie Lukas
Angel Markel
Joseph McCartney
Austin McNeilly
Joshua Meggitt

Julian Mendieta-Rindy
Cheyenne Meyers
Ashley Miller
Brittany Mills
Kyle Neumann
Heather Payne
Alyssa Pixley

Corey Povenmire
Ashlee Quantic
Jordan Ray
Erron Sadler
Tyler Schloemp
Hannah Shank
Andrea Smith

Michael South
Emily Stewart
Deven Tackett
Taylor Thoma
Sabrina Vanhorn
Blanca Weaver
Brandy Williams

Kristy Wittenmyer

"I don't like study hall. My favorite class is science, because of Mrs. Smith, I love her!"
-Kyle Neumann

Andrea Smith

Chase Cohen

Austin Conley

1

2

3

4

1. Austin McNeilly, Joseph McCartney, Tyler Schloemp and Dylan Carles just sat down with pizza ready to eat and take their break. "My favorite thing about lunch time is that I get to pick on Kyle Neumann!" Dylan Carles said.
2. Taylor Thoma and Taylor Boyer sat with their friends in the cafeteria to eat and converse. "Lunch is fun because you get to eat and talk to your friends!" Taylor Thoma exclaimed.
3. Michael South and Sage Flores make conversation during lunch while they try to keep the jokes about teachers quiet.
4. Parker Emahiser, Todd Carver, Matthew Archer, Clinton Ebright, and Thomas Hillard find something to talk about at their table to make the day a little more interesting. "Eight grade is really boring, so we talk about teachers, but I would rather be drinking tea with my grandma," Parker Emahiser said.

Matthew Archer
Cody Boyer
Eric Bretz
Chelsey Brown
Desiree Bumpus
Parker Bushey
Christopher Casey

Jacob Casey
Kayla Cluckey
Antorian Cobb
Ariel Cohen
Caitlin Cotterman
Michael Cramer
Kayla Crampton

Terrance Crill
Tyler Crill
Robert Daniels
Tiffany Daniels
Katherine Davidson
Miranda Deerwester
Bridget Dewulf

Taylor Dick
Kara Dillingham
Peter Euler
Kali Findley
Jacob Flores
Jeremy Grant
Ashley Greeno

Terrance Crill

Jeremy Grant

Sean Williams

Cody Boyer

Class of 2010

Another Revolution

Ask the freshman class how their year went and you will get the following answers. "It was fun," Megan Grilliot and Brittany Tellez said. "I agree," Treg Rensch piped in when overhearing the girls. "It went really fast," Jacob Casey stated. As always there are those students who had an opposing view. Corey North and a few others "thought it wasn't as pleasant." Over all most thought it was a good year, even though it was a big change from Junior High. We pulled together at the beginning of the year to decorate our portion of the hallway with a lot of orange and black for homecoming week. We took 2nd place! As usual some of the teachers we liked and others we didn't. The thing that didn't change was the drama that always seems to exist between the girls, the guys, and the girls and the guys. Other freshman just tried to stay away from all the drama. But when it is all said and done—nothing beats the Freshman Class!!

By: Jessica Williams
Page by: Brooke Simmons

Megan Grilliot
Autumn Guy
Tearra Huitt
Trevor Jordan
Michael Kaufman
Crystal Keeton
Devin Lafferty

Eric Lambert
Brandon Lawrence
Courtney Lincoln
Gage Markel
Cassandra Mendieta
Brandon Mills
Megan Moser

Taylor Murphy
Jacob Myers
Corey North
Jennifer Noykos
Joshua Patterson
Noah Patterson
Cody Pelton

Benjamin Phillips
Emily Rayle
Nikkole Rayle
Ryan Rayle
Treg Rensch
Brandon Rister
Ashley Roether

Treg Rensch

"New teachers,
new experiences,
same old not wanting to study."

~Terrance Crill

Chelsey Woodruff

Bridget Dewulf

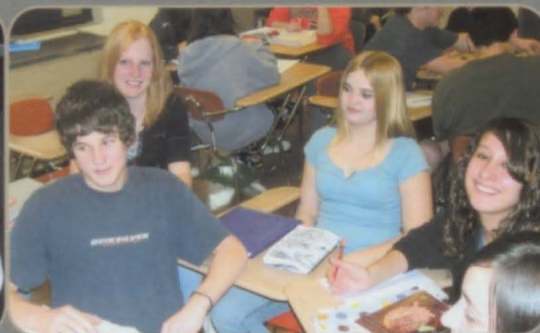

Taylor Dick

Teddy Romo
Amanda Rose
Chelsea Savage
Jessica Simon
Logan Smith
Valerie Solly
Kelsi Stefanka

Brittany Tellez
Marcello Trevino
James Whitman
Jessica Williams
Sean Williams
Chelsey Woodruff
Vincent Yates

1. Noah Patterson and Benjamin Phillips worked on sketches for their art project. The two were a team and had to construct shoes for the 'Top Artist' contest. "I had a lot of fun in art with my friend, Noah Patterson," Benjamin Phillips explained.

2. Parker Bushey literally sits in the middle of a discussion circle helping to come up with a plan for an end of the nine weeks project in American History.

Kirsten Bowers
 Branden Campbell
 Amanda Carter
 Josh Clark
 Kylan Clark
 Deanna Cluckey
 Brianna Cole

James Cotterman
 Holli Cramer
 Channing Deitrick
 Andrew Dick
 Stormi Eaken
 Jordan Elchar
 Jake Essinger

Ashley Flowers
 Brandon Galbraith
 Stephanie Garner
 Britten Gibbs
 Jacob Gillen
 Dillon Hartman
 Rebecca Howell

Leanna Ish
 Kimberly Karosa
 Cory Lang
 Kurt Lauck
 Kyle Lauck
 Brian Leimgruber
 Randy Marine

Amanda Carter

Kimberly
 Karosa

Penny
 Rayle

Deanna
 Cluckey

Class of 2009

Becoming Well Rounded

This year was full of fun and hard work for the sophomore class. It was fun for many reasons. The first reason is that we weren't the babies of high school anymore. Between preparing for the OGT and our first year with Mr. Hollenbaugh, it was a exciting and hectic year. The second reason, we won the hallway-decorating contest for Fall Homecoming. Sophomores hung vines from the ceiling, put up faux grass, and even had a life like tiger displaying the Jungle theme required. We had a float in the Homecoming Parade where Corinne Savage, Andrea Uhlenhake, Brittany Vanaman and Brianne Cole passed out leis to all the parade-goers. Third, we had a blast at pep rallies. The best pep rallies were when Kyle Lauck and Stephanie Garner cross-dressed for the Fall Homecoming fashion show. Then, Penny Rayle and Eli Simon sported their best threads for the Winter Homecoming Red Carpet fashion show. Fourth, we worked concession stands at junior high volleyball games and earned money for our class. There are many more things that we could list to demonstrate why this year was an awesome year for us, however, there are too many to list. We look forward to many more activities as we make our way to graduation in two years.

By Corinne Savage
 Page by Brooke Simmons

Danielle Marsh
Monica Marsh
Travis McCurdy
Shawn Myers
Blake Parsons
Alyssa Phillips
Jennie Povenmire

Tiffany Purnell
Penny Rayle
Teira Sadler
Corinne Savage
Jeffrey Senecal
Evan Shank
John Thomas Sharninghouse

Cassandra Shope
Amanda Simon
Elias Simon
Kassi Smith
Andrew Solarik
Logan Spangenberg
Valerie Stearns

Philp Stefanka
Gage Stewart
Samantha Thompson
Sarah Tietje
Andrea Uhlenhake
Brittany Vanaman
Brian Waaland

Alyssa Phillips

"I had a lot of fun with my classmates this year. I can't wait till next year."

~Amanda Carter

John Sharninghouse

Logan Spangenburg

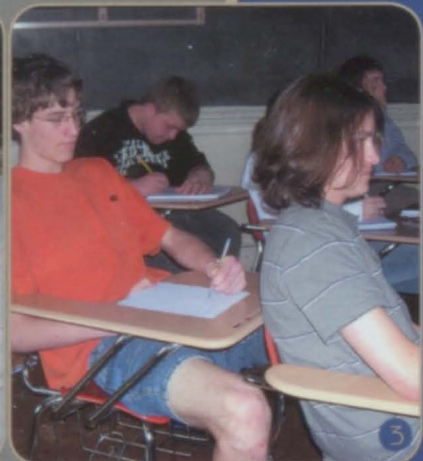

Danielle Marsh

Joseph Williams
Megan Williams

1. Brian Waaland and Rebecca Howell try their best to write down all the information given for an upcoming test.
2. Dillon Hartman and Randy Marine try to stay awake, but Mr. Hollenbaugh is always cracking a joke to keep their attention.
3. Jeffrey Senecal and Kylen Clark learn why our government has checks and balance in American Government.

Andrew Brumbaugh
Aryn Bucher
Edwin Chaffin
Smantha Cole
Zachary Cole
Bailey Delancy
Drew Dewulf

Mindy Dick
James Eaken
Michael Edmonds
Zachary Engard
Brittany Espen
Andrew Finkenbinder
Joshua Flowers

Catrina Glover
Robert Hamlin
Barbra Hartman
Elizabeth Henry
Lindsay Henry
Cory Herr
Ryan Herringshaw

Lindsey Hohman
Jared James
Devin Jones
Jennifer Kaltenbach
Shaie Keaton
Heather King
Kelli Kreisher

Dani Morelock

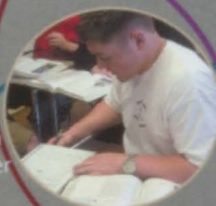

Class of 2008

Time of Our Life

Heather King

John Zeigler

Stacey Myers

The Junior class of 2008, is a very fun and determined class. Through the year the class had a few challenges to complete. They were led by Class Advisors, Mrs. Wcislek and Miss Von Lehmden. Class officers were President, Jenna Swartz, Vice President Heather King, Secretary Robby Hamlin and Treasurer Matt Woodruff. Our main challenge was Prom. All the officers and the prom committee had to agree on the same place, and the same theme before any plans could be developed. The class also had to raise the money for prom by participating in many fund raising functions. They worked the basketball concession stand and sold "Elder Beerman Care to Share Day" coupons to family and friends. After Christmas they sold Prom T-shirts to help raise additional funds. After all the planning and hard work, Prom turned out perfect. Everything turned out how we wanted it to be. Thank you Mrs. King for organizing after-prom. We had a great time. Casino Royal was a night to remember.

By Heather King & Brittany Trevino
Page by Brooke Simmons

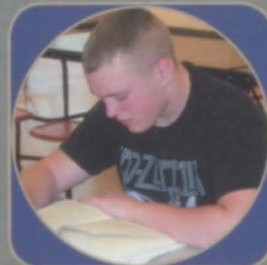

Melissa Leimgruber
Justin Losh
Serah Lukas
Stephanie Miller
Dani Morelock
Denny Morelock
Heather Noykos

Andrew Opsomer
Lacie Orians
Robert Pelton
Matthew Phillips
Troy Rayle
Johnny Siferd
Allyson Smith

Brittany Smith
Matthew Smith
Roger South
Megan Spence
Jenna Swartz
Angelica Tackett
Trenton Tatham

Alyssa Tellez
Brittany Trevino
Richard Vanhorn II
Andrew Williams
Matthew Woodruff
John Zeigler

Andrew Opsomer

"My classmates are outgoing and active; we have a good time and are all good friends!"
~Dani Morelock

Baley Delancy

Andrew Brumbaugh

Jennifer Kattenbach

1. Brittany Trevino and Lacie Orians search for answers in chemistry about epithelial chains. "I wish we did more labs in the classroom because I learn better from experience than from book work and worksheets," Lacie explained.
2. Traveling back to their elementary years, Matthew Woodruff and Matthew Smith put together a couple of their last minute Christmas ornaments for their parents as an art project.
3. Shaie Keaton and Denny Morelock work on their worm dissection in Advanced Biology. Denny did most of the dissecting by looking at the organs inside of "Fred" while Shaie answered the questions in their packet.
4. At the end of their chemistry class Ryan Herringshaw and Heather Noykos hurry to finish an assignment so they have no homework for the weekend. "We have a lot of book assignments in Chemistry class because there is a lot to learn! We did do a fun lab with chemicals that change color when heat is applied," Ryan commented.

1. Math Team:
Mr. Rowlinson
Mrs. Tarney
Mr. Gilman

2. Science
Team:
Mr. Gregorsok
Mrs. Garner
Mr. Mullholland
Mr. Kloepper
Mrs. Smith

3. History Team:
Mr. Daniels
Mrs. Traver
Mr. Hollenbaugh

4. Language Arts
Team:
Mrs. Wcislek
Mr. Zamudio
Mrs. Schaffer
Mrs. Neumann
Ms. VonLehmden
Mrs. Matthes

Mr. Kozina,
Principal

Mr. Broz,
Guidance

Mrs. Schwab,
EMIS

Mrs. Zeigler,
Office

Getting the Ball Rolling

Our Staff Is "A" Class

The teachers and staff at North Baltimore Main Building often go above and beyond the call of duty. It is never a surprise to have teachers tutoring students at 7:30 am or at 3:30 p.m. It is never a surprise if a teacher becomes ill to have three to four teachers volunteer to help cover the classroom on their behalf. It is not uncommon to see teachers working with their teams to analyze data and redirect curriculum to make sure students are learning the material required to succeed in life and on the Ohio Graduation Test. Also this year, the 11th-12th grade team organized a Job Shadow Day for this year's seniors. Seniors spent five hours at various places of business and industry including a hospital. A couple of lucky seniors who were interested in law enforcement got the chance to ride with police officers in their cruisers. Not only do we have an exceptional certified staff, our classified staff is outstanding as well. It was above and beyond the call of duty for our custodial staff to work long hours when the boiler accident occurred. From cooks to custodians to secretaries to teachers, it never ceases to amaze me the dedication and commitment they have to the students and community of North Baltimore.

By: Jason Kozina

Page By: Brooke Simmons

1

2

3

4

1. Fine Arts Team:
Mrs. Coppock
Mr. Archer
Mr. Pack
Mr. Tobe

2. Practical Arts Team:
Ms. Brown
Mr. Daniels
Mrs. Miller

3. Intervention Specialists Team:
Mrs. Neumann
Mr. Switzer
Mr. Eichar

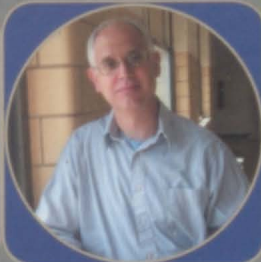

4. Through out the year teachers learned about different topics such as blood pathogens, new policies and procedures at staff in-service meetings. They also discussed student issues as well as next years scheduling.

"Staff dedication and student's hard work led to all 2007 graduates meeting OGT requirements."

~Principal Kozina

Mr. Mullholland,
Athletic Director

Mr. Csontos,
Technology

Mrs. Powell,
Librarian

Mr. Gunder,
Study Hall Monitor

1

2

1. Mrs. Matthes questioned Mr. Kozina about Jr. High Off Grade Testing schedules.

2. Custodial Team
Chris Snyder
RJ Swartz
Larry Snyder

3. Kitchen Team:
Charlene Hosley
Head Cook, Karen Downs
Sue Mills
Sharon Harmon
Shirlee Swartz

4. Board Members:
Jake Trevino
Jeremy Sharninghouse
Supt. Kyle Clark
Sue Ebright
David Casey
President,
Russell Bretz

3

4

The most useful thing I have learned was how to make a year-book in publications."

~Megan Williams

Richard Lentz

"My favorite teacher is Mr. Hollenbaugh because he is always there to talk to and he can make me laugh no matter what mood I'm in, Thanks smart guy!"

~Jessica Kytte

Noah Patterson

Kali Findley

Thomas Hillard II

1. Packed up and ready to go, Stephanie Garner awaits the ringing bell. Science is not Stephanie's favorite class but she finds Mr. Gregorsok to be "so interesting!"

2. "Pay attention you will need everything that you learn in Intro to Business Class. Be good for there are consequences. Trust me I know," Amy Romo explained. Amy and Jessica Kytte were best friends and had a fun time in class especially when getting in trouble a lot for talking!

3. Reuben Torres and Vincent Solly built a model of Frankenstein in their sixth period language arts class. "We're on our way to becoming awesome beverage scientists," said Reuben. They made the model mostly out of a Mountain Dew bottle and some plastic cups.

"The most memorable moment of this year was when I brought in an arcade steering wheel and pretended I was driving in language arts class."

~Brandon Rister

"My biggest habit in school is talking. I get yelled at everyday in Mr. Rowlinson's class. But I just want to let him know I am listening."

~Alyssa Tellez

Kimberly Karosa

Peter Euler

"The most useful thing I learned this year was the effects drugs have on a person's mind in history class."

~Kyle Guck

"My least favorite class is study hall because it is not a comfortable place to sleep."

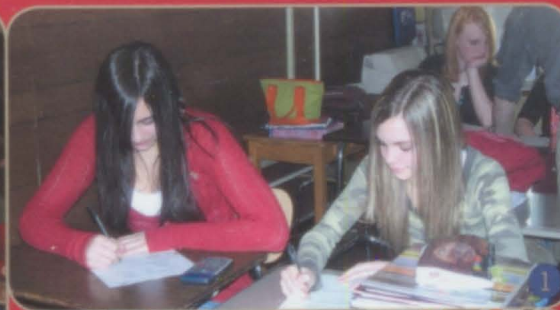

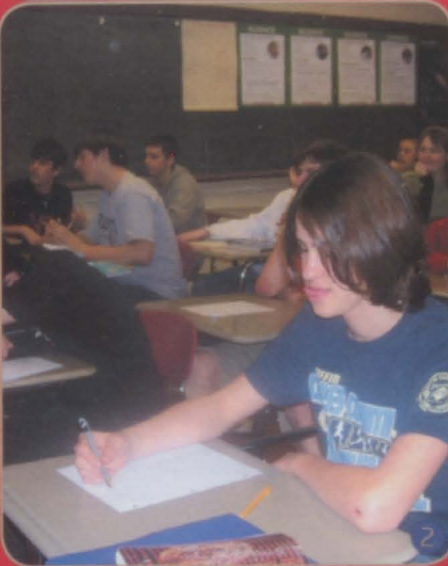

~Noah Patterson

Doug Auchmuty

Year Round Work

As The World Turns; 180 Days

1. Ariel Cohen and Chelsey Woodruff worked on their math worksheet in Mr. Gilman's class. "I enjoy working with partners because I could be with my friends," Ariel admitted.

2. Kylen Clark takes notes for his physical science class "Science is tasty!" Kylen reported.

3. Sadie Smith listens diligently to Mrs. Matthes as she gives the lesson to the class. "I think this class is boring because we have to read and I don't like to," Sadie said.

4. Mr. Tobe's choir class got prepared for their concert by rehearsing their music. "I like choir because we get to work on making our voice pretty. We get to talk sometimes," Miranda Woodruff said.

"The most useful thing I've learned this year was about penuche squares; it will help me when I go to college for biology."

~Megan Grilliot

Gage Markel

"My favorite teacher is Mrs. Garner because her classes are fun and I like dissections."

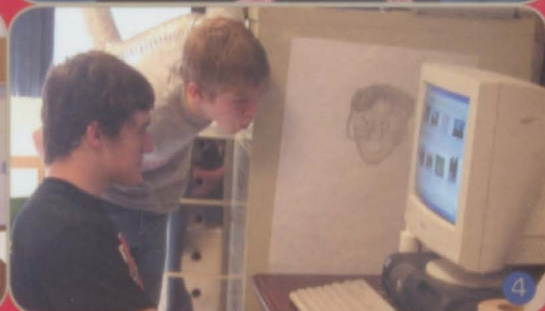

~Lacie Orians

1. Starting a three set art piece, Elijah Coppock puts on the first layer of paint. This piece along with three others of his went all the way to the state level of the Governor Competition. Eli had three pieces that were selected for the Governor Show.

2. Art students took on the challenge of defining who Barbie is. Students created Caveman Barbie, Yarn Barbie, Club Barbie, Homeless Barbie and many others. Each designer gave their doll a different look then what can be purchased in stores.

3. Working diligently on an independent art piece, Corey Hunt found it difficult to complete his drawing of an officer. Corey had no trouble finding inspiration for this piece, because he plans to become an officer after graduation.

4. Taylor Dick and Matthew Archer look at their options for drawings on Google. "One of the best parts of making an art piece is finding the picture you want to use," Taylor reports. Taylor had one piece that moved on, and was at the Governor Show.

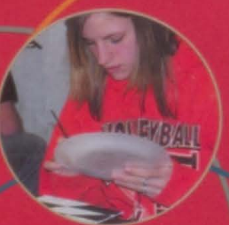

The World Is Your Canvas Its All Black and White from Here

Kirsten Bowers

Megan Grilliot

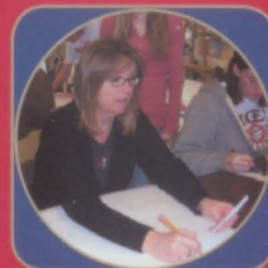

Brianni Rensch

The Art Department had many accomplishments this school year. The students tried different forms of art throughout the year. They held a "Top Artist" contest based on recent reality shows. The artists paired up and created shoes and Barbie outfits. The Art Club students met regularly on Thursdays, where guest artists like Michael Phillips came to teach Photoshop. They also met at Studio Seven in Bowling Green, which was open to students on Mondays. The Art Department hosted an Alumni Art Show, where seven past NBHS students showed off the art they had created since graduation. With all of the hard work the students put into their pieces, it is no surprise that 121 were entered in the regional Governor Show competition. Twenty-eight of those pieces, from eighteen artists, were selected to go to the state competition. Elijah Coppock (three pieces), Matthew Phillips, Taylor Dick, and Gage Stewart had pieces selected and displayed at the Governor Show in Columbus, Ohio. The students also prepared for the Spring Art Show and Fine Art Awards. The artists of NBHS showed their creativity and talent throughout the year and were awarded for their hard work.

By: Jessica Kytelle
Page by: Jennifer Lemay

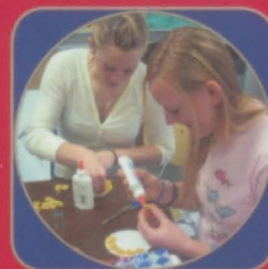

Mrs. Coppock

Mr. Archer

Kelsey Nigh
and Serah Lukas

1

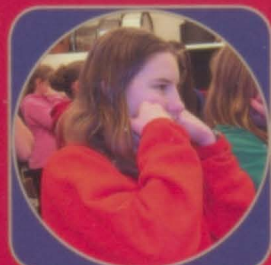

2

1. The high school choir includes: Kirsten Bowers, Chelsey Brown, Kasey Buckmiller, Desiree Bumpus, Kayla Cluckey, Brianna Cole, Elijah Coppock, Lisa Cotterman, Cassandra Crill, Tyler Crill, Tiffany Daniels, Katherine Davidson, Brittany Espen, Kali Findley, Jacob Gillen, Megan Grilliot, Dillon Hartman, Michael Ishmael, Jared James, April Julien, Kimberly Karosa, Jessica Kyttle, Kurt Lauck, Jennifer Lemay, Gage Markel, Danielle Marsh, Megan Moser, Taylor Murphy, Nikkole Rayle, Troy Rayle, Cassandra Shope, Johnny Siferd, Jessica Simon, Allyson Smith, Trisha Smith, Valerie Solly, Jenna Swartz, Sean Williams and Krysta Wright.

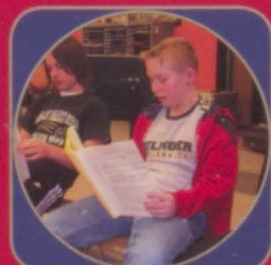

2. The middle choir includes: Amber Archer, Mitchell Archer, Ashley Baisden, Augusta Barker, Alexandria Bland, Chad Boggs, Taylor Boyer, Mackenzie Carpenter, Todd Carver, Jessica Casey, Austin Conley, Kristina Dick, Clinton Ebright, Leona Euler, Maranda Fenstermaker, Hali Francisco, Jessica Frost, Ashley Galligan, Bailey Gibson, Kati Grilliot, Skyler Hall, Kelsey Hendren, Blake Henry, Clara Hernandez, Kelli High, Thomas Hillard II, Ryan Alex James, Larissa Jordan, Rachelle Lincoln, Jonathan Long, Emily Lukas, Kerstie Lukas, Joseph McCarthy, Nicole McNeilly, Amber Mendieta, Alan Miller, Brayden Newberry, Tori Oberdorf, Tori Perez, Andrew Peters, Ashlee Quantic, Tyler Schloemp, Hannah Shank, Ashlynn Shiffler, Courtney Simmons, Ashley Smith, Sadie Smith, Tyler Smith, Micheal South, Samantha Trimble, Bianca Weaver, Shannon Whitman, Andrew Williams, Emily Williams, Miranda Woodruff, and Marissa Woodward.

Mr. Tobe

Rachelle Lincoln

Brayden Newberry

Let The Music Ring !!!!

102 Students Raise Their Voices

Both the middle school and the high school choirs performed four concerts.

"The choirs grew with each performance and learned more about their voices and technique, which is very important," Mr. Tobe said. At the beginning of class, students sang warm-ups and did breathing exercises. They finished class by practicing the music they would be performing at their upcoming concerts. Their favorite songs were "Carol of the Bells" (sang by the high school) and "One Tin Soldier" (sang by the middle school). A major highlight of the year was the six students who made District's Honors Choir. The high school choir was proud to have April Julien, Jenna Swartz, Cassandra Crill, Jared James, Sean Williams, and Elijah Coppock represent NBHS. Mr. Tobe stated "This is a big accomplishment. I believe this really speaks about the talent of our students, and the great direction that our music program is heading in."

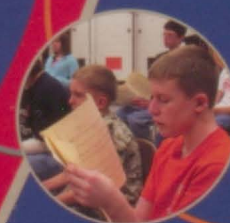

By: Jennifer Lemay

Sean Williams

Megan Grilliot

Tyler Schloemp

1. Accompanying the band on bells, Stacey Myers showed off her competition skills. "I like playing bells depending on the songs we played," Stacey said.

2. The band showed off their Tiger spirit as they played in the paw-print formation for the song, "Hey Jude." Kylen Clark was the featured soloist on the trombone.

3. During a rousing rendition of "Play that Funky Music," squad leaders, Chelsea Savage and Monica Marsh, rocked out and did the song justice. "High notes were extremely fun to play, but are tough when you're dancing," Monica stated.

4. In the piece "Carnival for Flutes," three woodwind players, Callie Slagle (oboe), Amanda Hotaling (flute), and Abigail Coppock (flute) had solos in the Spring Concert selection. "I liked this piece because it sounded happy," Callie exclaimed.

We're In The Band Rising to the Challenge

Sergeant,
Eli Coppock

Richie
Lentz

Evan
North

A band is a thin strip of flexible material used to encircle and bind one object. The NBHS band is many people bound together by a love of music and instrumental prowess. Band camp kicked off the season. The first show of "Hey Jude", "Get Ready" and "Play that Funky Music" rocked the house. The second show was "Crocodile Rock", "Crazy Little Thing Called Love" and "Livin' on a Prayer". "We worked so hard on Crocodile Rock to make those lines straight," Jenna Swartz recalls. The Homecoming show included "Seasons of Love", Fight Song and "Wipe Out" with the help of the alumni band. "Land of a Thousand Dances", "Pirates of the Caribbean", and "Fat-Bottom Girls" made up the senior show. Maddie Clark especially enjoyed this show because the seniors were involved. Leadership got shifted towards the end of the season. Jenna Swartz, junior drum major, became the senior drum major because Maddie moved. The concert band had three concerts, with songs including Sleigh Ride, Billboard March, Phantom of the Opera Medley, Western One-Step and Silver Jubilee Overture. The NBHS Band has proved to be a true band. Their work and dedication have held them together. What can they say? They're in the Band!

By: Jennie Povenmire

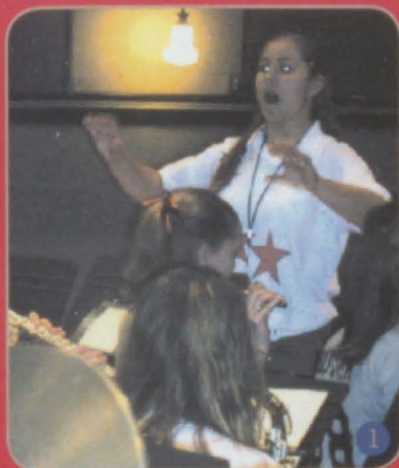

Mr. Pack

Senior Drum Major,
Jenna Swartz,

Junior Drum Major,
April Julien

1. Senior Drum Major, Jenna Swartz, directed the band in "Crazy Little Thing Called Love" at the Sounds of the Stadium concert. "I'm hoping my singing will help," Jenna exclaimed.

2. Many different percussion instruments, like the triangle and sleigh bells, helped the band play "Bell Carol Fantasy" to perfection at the Christmas concert. "This was the best concert of the year," Heather Noykos said.

3. The spring concert was a breath of fresh air for the students with pieces like "Three Ayres of Gloucester" and "Phantom of the Opera Medley", as well as the Tri-M inductions. "We played Phantom well," Andrea Uhlenhake commented.

4. Snaking on to the field after a well-deserved victory, TyGer and Maddie Clark lead the celebration. Not even the cold weather could stop the great times the band had at each football game.

"Taking a young band and incorporating them into a larger band is always tough, but we've managed."
~Mr. Pack

Corinne Savage

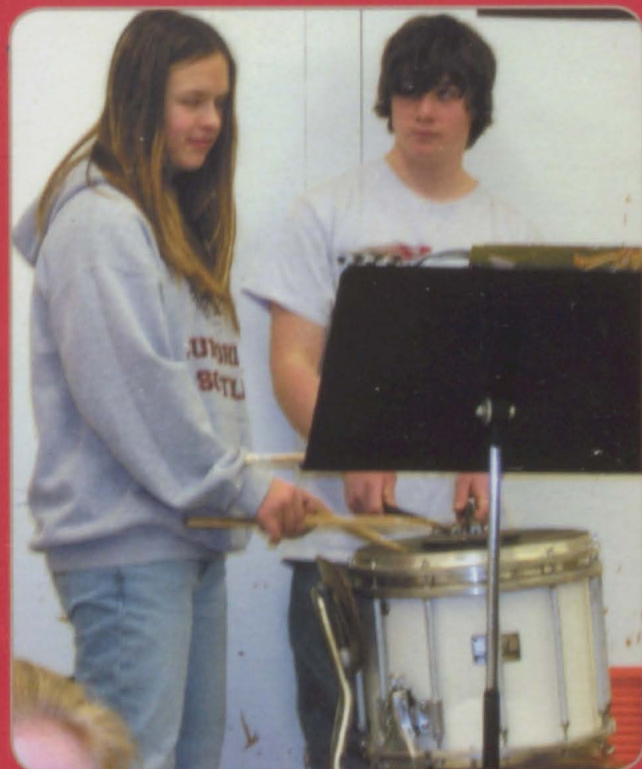

Corey Povenmire

Cory Lang

Travis McCurdy

Band members form the "N" during pregame at the Carey home game. Brittany Vana-man couldn't wait to play the Star Spangled Banner because it was her favorite song.

During band, drummers Brianna Ferguson and Derek Kepling work on the rhythm to "Wallflower Waltz". Guest director Dr. Stumbo from University of Toledo helped this piece reach its potential.

1. Searching through her book, Kassi Smith stayed focused on getting her Record Keeping homework so it will be done before the end of the period. "I like the class because it's easy," Kassi reported.

2. Steven Kruse tried to pay attention in his Economics class while Mr. Daniels talked about staying out of debt. Steven was often distracted by classmates Jessica Kytte and Andrew Williams. "I liked to fight with Steven and Andrew about nothing to keep myself entertained in economics class," Jessica commented.

3. Concentrating on learning the Publisher program, Deanna Cluckey begins a greeting card in her Computer Applications class. "This is one interesting class because we get to work with computers, and I got to sit beside Holli Cramer," Deanna said.

4. Kasey Buckmiller, Josh Clark, Andy Dick, and Jordan Eichar try to get their Record Keeping assignments done before the end of the period so they won't have any homework for the weekend. "I love Record Keeping!" Josh Clark exclaimed.

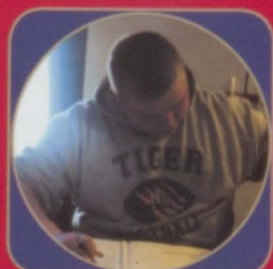

Looking Around The Rules Being Around The Calculator

Mrs. Miller

Mr. Daniels

John Thomas
Sharninghouse

North Baltimore offers six different business classes. Mrs. Miller taught five of those classes; Keyboarding, where the students learn to position their fingers properly on the keyboard while typing, Computer Applications, in which students learn to use Word, Publisher, Excel, Access and how to use an E-mail account. In Intro To Business, students learn about personal budgets, checking and savings accounts, and different forms of insurance. Record Keeping students kept track of accounts and records in their workbooks. Mr. Daniels taught two business classes, Law and Economics. Law was a half semester where students covered a variety of rules that they are to follow now and in future years. Economics students studied personal and corporate finance. The students did an outstanding job of taking all the information learned and applying that information to different case studies throughout the second semester. "I liked how interesting the economy is and learned that credit is not always the best way to go," senior Lisa Cotterman said after taking three business courses. When Mrs. Miller was asked if she believed anyone in her class would be a successful businessperson. She replied "Most definitely, there always several students each year who will take business as a major in college because of these courses."

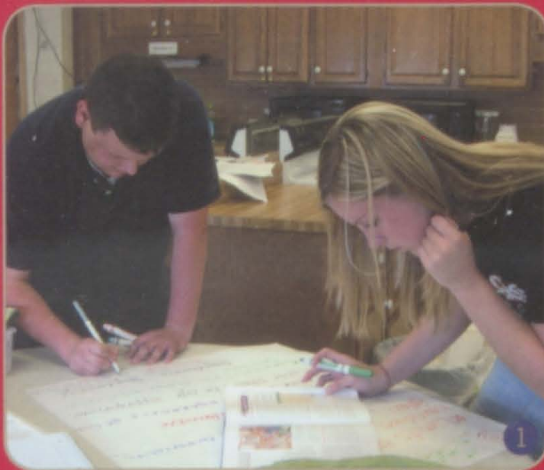

Lisa
Cotterman

Josh
Clark

Lance
Mendieta

1. Corey Hunt and Kelsey Nigh work on posters in their parenting class that showed limits people should set on their child care. This includes rules and punishments they should have according to a child's age. "Two heads are better than one to set limits for children," Corey explained.

2. While making a banana topping for his ice cream treat, Chef Jim talks to Ms. Brown's classes about decisions in their careers. One of his favorite things to tell the students is, "If you don't love going to your job on Monday it's time to get a new one."

3. Ms. Brown gives her Independent Living students instructions to make lasagna. She wanted to make sure the class knew the proper way to crack an egg. It is to crack it all the way around before dumping the egg into the bowl.

4. Kimberly Karosa concentrates on teaching Ms. Brown's Careers class how to make a spider chain out of yarn, for the 'How To' speeches. "It is a fun activity if you know what you are doing," Kimberly commented.

Ms. Brown

Lisa Cotterman

Trisha Smith

Life Choices Are All Around Expanding Life Knowledge

Family and Consumer Science students have learned about life choices in their classes and have gained skills that will help them throughout life. Each class has a specific focus on a particular aspect of life, but most situations will be presented to them after graduation. The Life Skills class learned a lesson on helping others through participating in service learning projects. In Teen Issues, students had the opportunity to do learning activities, which allowed them to experience some of the many life choices that will be presented to them throughout their teenage years. The Nutrition and Wellness classes had the opportunity to experiment in the kitchen with different recipes and created many masterpieces. The Family Relations class participated in planning individual mock weddings. The Careers classes created job portfolios, which will be helpful as each student participates in a mock job interviews. Independent Living students have the privilege of learning information on how to manage life on their own. They get to participate in a computer simulation program, which allows them to practice the life skills they are learning. Finally, the Parenting classes learn many different ways to communicate and help children they may encounter in life through planning and participating in fun activities that can be carried with them through life. Overall, Family and Consumer Science classes exist to give students the information they need to make informed and wise choices in life. "If however, the students take any lesson from the room, my hope is they learn that throughout life with everything they do there will be a choice to make. Every choice has a consequence, and they are the only ones responsible for making the right choice," Ms. Brown commented.

By: Ms. Brown

Page by: Jennifer Lemay

Elizabeth Henry

Lindsey Hohman

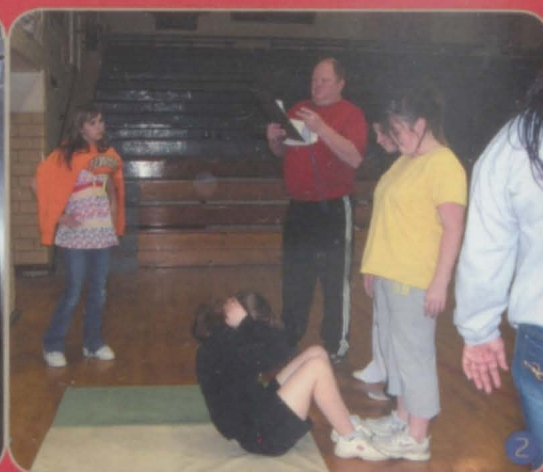

Timothy Keeton

1. Gage Stewart worked hard to get a set of leg presses done in the weight room during his lifting class. "I have fun lifting and doing leg presses, it helps me build my strength," Gage admits.

2. Working on their crunches in gym class, Andrea Bankey and Nicole Buchanan hurried to get done so they could play basketball. "My favorite thing about gym class is playing dodgeball because I like to knock people out," Nicole said.

3. Michael Cramer kicked a home run for his team in the game of Mat ball. Michael's theory on the game is "Win if you can, lose if you must but always cheat," because he feels he always gets put on the bad teams in gym class.

4. "We always learn a new way to keep our bodies healthy and strong," Felicia Konrad said. She and Taylor Thoma are both concentrated on getting their work done in health class. Felicia is finished her vocabulary and Taylor made up a test.

Be Fit Not Round

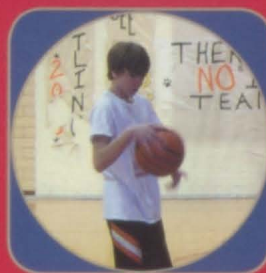

A Healthy Lifestyle

Mr. Mulholland

Tim Keeton

Dylan Carles

Patrick Rayle

Kyle Neumann

Madison Mills

Keeping fit is on everyone's mind, but few sign up for the courses that will help them achieve their ideal weight or physique structure. In PE, student's started out by taking a fitness test to determine how fit they were. Over the course of the semester they played volleyball, mat ball, dodge ball, basketball, wiffle ball, hockey and if there's enough time at the end of the semester, kickball. Each of these games were played for approximately two weeks. At the end of the semester, students took another fitness test to see how they had improved during the eighteen-week period. In Health Class, students learned about making healthy eating and behavioral choices. Mrs. Head came in and talked with the students about the consequences of drug and alcohol use. During Fitness Class, students learned the proper technique for lifting weights and the use of various lifting exercises. "I enjoy working out because it makes me stronger, I look good, and I enjoy the hard physical activity" Luke Wymer said. Fitness is not only for athletes, but to help one develop an athletic ability.

By: Alyssa Tellez

1. To complete notes for the test, Emily Rayle and Ryan Rayle work hard to get the best grades possible. "Mr. Daniels is my hero," Emily exclaimed.
2. While completing a section review, Matthew Phillips jokingly shares that he suspected Matthew Woodruff of "cheating off his excellent work." The two boys had a lot of fun in their eight period class.
3. During a session of group work, Madison Mills, JaBrendia Cobb and Angel Markel find time to discover the fun in history. They were laughing about how funny the name "Horace Mann" sounded, the group still managed to complete their work on time.
4. Engulfed in their work, Chelsey Brown and Brandon Lawrence hurry to finish their papers before the end of the class so they did not have homework. "I got an A on this assignment," Chelsey mentioned.

Mr. Hollenbaugh

Mr. Daniels

Mrs. Traver

Sphere of Influence

"Finding Our Own Way"

"Every new generation must re-write history in its own way," according to RG Collingwood. He's absolutely correct—we have to make our own mistakes to find out what works and what doesn't. In our pursuit to learn, we had to look to the past to see the truth. We're lucky to have three smart and fun teachers who will help us in our search. Mr. Daniels taught History, Law, Economics and Recitation. Daniels chose to teach history because he likes it. Favorite lessons of students from the year include studying Law, the World Wars and the Civil War. He also told future students to "study hard". Mr. Hollenbaugh taught Government, World History and History Through the Media. He's been at NBHS 8 years and teaches because "it's the only way to love history and get paid for it." He told future students to "do their homework". His favorite projects included movie making in History Through the Media and playing the stock market in Government. Mrs. Traver taught seventh and eighth grade social studies. She has been at our school for eleven years and was inspired to teach because of those who led her in her past. Her students studied basic world history and early civilizations in seventh grade, and everything from the Revolutionary War to the Civil War in eighth. These three teachers have brought history to life for many NB students.

By: Jennie Povenmire

Eric Lambert

Jared James

Allyson Smith

1. Alex Hogan and Eric Phillips made a monster to simulate the process that Frankenstein went through in the novel. "I hope my child looks as good as our monster did," Alex said.

2. In Ms. Von Lehmden's Language Arts class Brittany Vanaman, John Thomas Sharninghouse, and Brian Leimgruber discussed the meaning of respect. After the discussion, they wrote what respect meant to each of them by writing a word for each letter.

3. After the spelling bee, Todd Carver suggested studying for anyone who wants to win. "I lasted for awhile and I was surprised," Todd said.

4. Jessica Casey and other students raised their hands to answer a question about Women's History Month. "My favorite thing in English was Webquest Wednesday, where we learned about the Iditarod, Women's History Month, and Freedom Writers," Jessica said.

There Is English All Around Reading And Writing All Day Long

Trisha Smith

Ashley Smith

Chelcie Kaufman

The students had a busy year in their English Courses. The seventh grade students read WALK TWO MOONS. The eighth graders made personal connections to the novel STARGIRL. Both of the classes kept reading logs outside of class to keep track of their daily reading assignments. The freshmen classes enjoyed using their creativity and enthusiasm to perform ROMEO AND JULIET. Sophomores spent a lot of time in groups, and made commercials during their "gospel according to Larry" unit. The juniors and seniors work on their public speaking. The Rotary held a speech competition open to all students. Senior, April Julien, placed second, "I feel that my speech on "Stopping Gossip" hit home for the members, for different reasons." Juniors took an exciting adventure through American Literature by reading THE GREAT GATSBY and OF MICE AND MEN. The seniors English classes studied British literature, by reading CANTEBURY TALES, FRANKENSTEIN, HAMLET, and JANE EYRE.

By: Lacie Orians

Ms. Matthes

Mrs. Wcislek

Ms. Von Lehmden

