

With a roster of only eleven players, the North Baltimore Baseball team dominated league play this season, beating team after team and finishing third in the BVC with a record of 15-9. In addition to coming in third in the BVC, the boys also bested McComb in the district finals, despite a hard loss to them earlier in the season. After beating McComb, the team was tasked with playing the second best team in the state: Carey. Through hard work and the power of positive mindsets, the boys prevailed after seven innings, beating Carey 10-3 and becoming the champions of District 4. In the regional finals the boys took on Plymouth and lost 2-1 after a hard fought game.

Track

These chariots were definitely on fire this track season. The track team started conditioning and training in early November to ensure their season would be a strong one. The season brought many new athletes to the team, giving the boys and girls many new and improved relay teams to compete with. After being offered pizza on Coach Cyndi if some of the athletes placed at BVC's, the runners and throwers stepped it up on the track. Many of the runners and throwers placed at BVC's, as well as Districts, which earned them spots to compete at the Regional meet. Kiley Brooker and Jacob Crawford captured the District Title in Shot Put, placing first. Jordan Bucher placed 2nd in the Pole vault with a height of 9'6". Levi Trout fought through the heat and placed 3rd in the 3200 M (2 Mile). All four placers ran and threw their hardest at the Regional meet, but only Kiley, Jacob, and Jordan placed, which advanced them to the OHSAA State track meet. Kiley took 9th place for the Shot Put and Jacob placed 3rd for the Shot Put as well. Unfortunately, Jordan had an injury that prevented her from competing in the meet for Pole Vault. These athletes already have their eyes set for the State track meet next year.

The Tigers added four new seniors to their varsity team this year.

Jordan Bucher placed 4th at Regionals, sending her to State.

Levi Trout made it to Regionals during the 2017-18 Season.

Jake Crawford placed 1st place at Regionals, sending him to State.

Kiley Brooker took 4th place at Regionals, sending her to State.

Regional State

It is clear NB has some very strong and persistent athletes and teams.

This track season, the runners and throwers were doubtful of their chances of advancing past Districts due to being placed in a new and more competitive district. Four athletes, Kylie Brooker (shot put), Jordan Bucher (pole vault), Jacob Crawford (shot put), and Levi Trout (two mile), all advanced to Regionals. Kylie, Jacob, and Jordan advanced on to State, where Kylie placed 9th and Jacob placed 3rd. Unfortunately, Jordan was unable to compete due to a foot injury. Our softball ladies surely showed their stripes and battled it out with Gibsonburg at the Division IV Regional Semifinals. The girls sadly lost 12-9, ending their great season. The baseball boys had the same luck as the girls, facing Plymouth at Patrick Henry in the OHSAA Regional Semifinals. The boys lost 2-1, putting an end to their season. These tiger athletes proved their excellence out on the diamond and the track.

Middle School Cross Country

The middle school cross country team crossed the long white line gaining many personal records and spots on the top ten board. The middle school started training around the same time as the high school, running from two to four miles every day at practice. The three runners had to band together over the season when they were up against the high school runners in sprint workouts and games. "The race at Carey was the hardest to run because it was the hottest meet," said Lucy Trout. At the BVC meet Caitlin Schwartz ran her career best with a 13:32, Lucy Trout earned a Career Record of 19:25, and, for the boys, Casey Trout ran a 15:17, placing 27th.

"I joined Cross Country my 7th grade year and I really enjoyed it, so I came back this year. I also run to push myself and to better myself," said Caitlin Schwartz.

"I look up to Noah Pelton, Levi Trout, Wyatt Mowery, and Rachel Crouse. My favorite memory from this Cross Country season is when Caitlin and I got lost in the Elmwood school," said Casey Mowery.

"Before a race, I just think of my goal time and what pace I need to set to get that specific time. I play other sports in the off-season and go to the open runs to get in shape for Cross Country," said Lucy Trout.

There are three runners on the middle school cross country team.

Caitlyn Schwartz placed 3rd out of 34 runners at BVCs.

The middle school team runs anywhere between 3 to 4 miles.

The middle school team participated in game day with Elmwood.

The runners got to watch the Elmwood Fun Run and time people.

The players' favorite game to play was Pepper, a bumping game.

Many students joined because they wanted to try something new.

It was important to the team to do as many team bonding activities as possible.

The team held a "Secret Sister" before every game.

The girls had a team meal every week.

Middle School Volleyball

The middle school volleyball team was comprised of nineteen talented young ladies who were coached by Ashley Miklovic and Jolyn Buchanan. The seventh grade team had a total of nine players and the eighth grade had a total of ten. Though it was not a winning season for either team, it was a great building season for the girls. Aside from their usual practices, the girls did many fun activities to get to know each other better, and to become closer as a team. They had pizza parties, team bonding events, and days when they just played games. "At one of our games I was running and next thing you know I slipped and fell on my face, the ball landed right in front of me," Breanna Kreais recalled, laughing.

"Our season was as bumpy as our roller coaster cheer, but, just like a ride, you always have fun at the end," said Emma Cotterman.

"When I would hit the ball some of the team would say, 'You must be sick because you just got medicined,'" said Madison McGrew.

"I like that we were a team and we were all like a family," said Leia Thomas.

The girls are allowed to make up their own cheers.

They enjoy decorating lockers for fun.

The Woodruff building is their favorite practice flipping.

The middle school cheerleaders tumble.

Coach Beth makes all the players bows.

Middle School Cheerleading

Cheering is more than what everyone thinks. Maddy Westgate says, "The hardest part about cheering is trying to memorizing all of the cheers and my proudest moment was when Coach Tyson told me and Olivia we are captains and then told everyone to look up to us". Briona Tilden says, "The hardest part is learning all the moves and my proudest moment was when I learned two cheers in one night". Gabriella Estrada says, "The hardest part of cheering is learning how to do toe jumps and my proudest moment was doing a flip". Lydia Feehan says, "the hardest part about cheering is staying together with my team and my proudest moment was cheering on the boys to get a win". Olivia Matthes says, "The hardest part about cheering is trying to be loud enough so everyone in the crowd can hear, my proudest moment is when Maddy and I were honorary captains". Morgan Spence says, "The hardest part about cheering is smiling the whole time because sometimes I don't want to smile and my proudest moment was when I did a backflip for the first time".

"Since I am a flyer, I really like when we stunt because I get to go in the air. Whenever we stunt or do certain cheers it gets the crowd going and makes everything upbeat," said Madison McGrew.

"My favorite part about cheering is being able to interact with the audience. It gives me confidence and it can really help improve your jumps," said Cheyenna King.

"I'm excited to continue cheering into high school. Coach Beth always helped us whenever we needed it. Even if that meant giving us her sunglasses," said Maddy Westgate.

Middle School Football

For the middle school football team, winning wasn't as easy as they thought it would be. However, they did come together as a team and beat some of their toughest opponents. They had many proud moments, but a few stood out more than others. "My proudest moment was when we won the game against Van Buren because they're our rivals," said Logan Keller. Coach Davis said, "My proudest moments were when we won a few close games and improving from last year." Many of the middle school players look up to the high school players as mentors, as well as friends. "I look up to Brady Rader because he's a quarterback, just like me," said Torien Lute. Most of these boys will be joining the high school team in the future. "I will play football in high school to get even better and keep winning," said Gunner Kepling.

"I liked the competition that was shown by the teams we played," said Isiah Boyd.

Middle School Boys Basketball

The Middle School North Baltimore basketball team was split into two teams this year, the 7th graders and the 8th graders. The 7th grade team had a tough season this year, ending the season with a record of 1-11. The 8th grade team had a better season winning 8 games and ending with a record of 8-5. Isaiah Boyd, an 8th grader said "My favorite memory from basketball this year was the bus ride to our first tournament game because we ate a ton of pixie sticks." Many of the boys said that their favorite game was the Pandora Gilboa game because "it was such a nail biting game" as they came back and won the game by one point. Although both teams had to put up a fight this season, they made some unforgettable memories with their teammates.

"I like basketball because it helps me channel my anger in a positive way," said Brendan Woodward.

"Basketball is more than throwing the ball and making baskets, it requires trust, hand-eye coordination, and much more," said Johnny Hagemyer.

"During basketball, you have to treat every single game like it's your last. When you do that, the season will be more memorable," said Caiden Phillips.

"Everyone brings a different thing to the court and it creates a team, that's what I love most about basketball," said Austin Leeper.

There were 17 boys on the middle school team this year.

There are ten eighth boys and six seventh grade boys on the team.

All the boys plan on playing basketball in high school.

The boys made a negative record overall for the entire season.

They came in fourth in the tournaments.

They got second place in the tournament and made it to the championship.

They worked extremely hard for what they accomplish.

Middle School Girls Basketball

The girls started off the season with a lot of energy and hard work. They managed to come together with 17 wins and just 3 losses. They had some memorable first time moments as well. "My favorite memory was when I took my first shot at a very close game this year. I didn't make it, but I was really proud of myself for trying," Kaitlynn Swartz. "My favorite memory was wiping out on court because whenever someone on the team makes a mistake, we all laugh at it as friends, not just teammates," Gabby Estrada. The girls all joined for different reasons, but their goals are the same: to have fun and win. "I joined to be able to get aggressive without getting in trouble," Leia Thomas. "I like playing against people I don't know," Lydia Feehan. Many of the girls look up to the varsity girls in high school as well. Grace Hagemeyer says, "I look up to Kaitlyn Weinandy because she's a good athlete and she works hard." These ladies have shown their stripes this season and made North Baltimore proud.

"It's a team sport, you can't do anything without your teammates around you," said Emma Cotterman.

"I like surprising other teams with how small I am, but it turns out I'm really good," said Alivia Delancy.

"Basketball is a lot more than just dribbling and shooting, it takes hand eye coordination, aggressiveness, and a lot more," said Lucy Trout.

Jared Suman won first place at BVC this year.

Cameron Casdorph came in second at BVC this year.

Winners get announced at the next day's practice.

"I enjoy wrestling because I really like to win, it makes me feel confident in myself," said Darrian Zitzelberger.

"I enjoy wrestling because it's very fun," said Jared Suman

Middle School Wrestling

Due to a lot of hard work and determination, this year's wrestling team had a great season. Many steps were necessary in order for them to obtain the best results. For the boys on the wrestling team, meeting a specific weight class before a match, watching what they eat, and lots of intense practices were critical to improving themselves and the team. The boys joined the team for many different reasons: "I joined wrestling because Coach Garner told me during football season that I should try wrestling because he thought I'd be pretty good. So I thought about it and said why not," Camron Casdorph stated. The boys look up to the high school team for many reasons as well: "I look up to the whole high school team because they show me things like how to pin a person," explained Darrian Zitzelberger. Jared Suman added, "I look up to David Patterson because I think he's the best one on the team." These boys will be joining the high school wrestling team in the near future with many goals and determined minds.

Middle School Track

The middle school track team gave it their all every practice and meet and had a great season. The runners joined for many different reasons, but their intentions were the same: to win. "I joined the team because it seemed like a good opportunity and a great experience" said Emme Hopple. "I joined track because I thought it would be fun," said Denny Simon. Track might have been a lot of work and commitment, but the team has pretty memorable experiences to look back on in the future. "My favorite memory from track is 'Gucci flops'. What are Gucci flops? "I was in pole vault, the 800, and the mile. My best mile time was 6:01 minutes," said Caitlin Schwartz

"My favorite thing about track is hanging out with my friends. One of my favorite memories is when Emma got hit in the face with a football. I joined track to stay in shape," said Laura Keegan.

"I joined track because I thought it would be fun. Although at the first track meet I wasn't able to participate so I just walked around a pole the whole time," said Denny Simon.

They played a lot of running games like Sharks and Minnows.

There are four 7th grade students in middle school track.

The runners are proud of how well they work together.

The four by one team beat their seasonal record time by four seconds.
